

The Madison County Commission has heavily participated in the Drinking Water Festival conducted in May at UAH each year. The Festival educates 4th graders about surface and groundwater through fun, enlightening activities. The students learn the source of their drinking water, how they can protect it and keep it clean, and how it is linked to other natural resources. Children leave the Festival environmentally aware and equipped with a sense of stewardship for our greatest natural resource — WATER!

For further information: contact Anne Burkett at (256) 532-3505 or visit <http://www.hsvutil.org/drinkingwaterfestival/>